An Oncological Nightmare Goes Unreported

It's summer, and many of my townspeople, fully 'vaxxed'/'boosted', after 24 hours in crowded airports, sharing in-flight air, return from the 10 day vacation 'on the continent'. I beg-off invites to hear how it was because it's 50/50 they'll be re-infected by morning.

Let me begin with a reminder; I'm not a doctor but I do read. So, everything I am about to report on comes with a 'reportedly', 'purportedly', or 'allegedly' attached to it.

We are experiencing an oncological nightmare, where young persons with no family history are diagnosed with a 'turbo cancer', which grows so rapidly it cannot be treated with chemo, and is reportedly the result of mRNA 'vaccinations'—especially 'boosters'.

Some oncologists report that most oncologists are unaware the mRNA 'vaccines' are the cause for this and give 'boosters' to their patients, which reportedly increase the cancer virulence—400 times. And making it worse, 'turbo cancers' show-up more in groups, such as health professionals, who were coerced/forced to be 'vaxxed/boosted'.

How can a cancer spread throughout a young person's body over weeks? And why is this not the lead story on the evening news? Reportedly because there are no follow-up studies. The health agencies assure us that both mRNA and the 'spike protein' are out of the system in a few days—but no. Health agencies don't do their job (study not endorse), while independent researches find 'spike protein' 187 days after 'the jabs'.

In an unvaccinated person, infected with the virus, the immune system kills off the 'spike protein' over a few days. And reportedly this was happening with the 'spike' contained in the jabs, Now it is alleged that drug manufacturers also recognized this fact, adding something to the 'vaccines' to give the 'spike' needed longevity to avoid detection by the immune system—thus allowing the 'spike' required time to get into the cells.

'Spike longevity' allegedly causes 'immune compromise' and exhausted defenses cease to go after 'spike'—allowing cancer proliferation? 'Spike was already found in 'myocarditis' patients long after injection, but now is detected in all organs—in a nightmare scenario for remission and new cancers. Instead of a 5 to 10 year cycle for cancers to reach 'stage 4', patients reportedly die in 6/12 months. Sadly, the biggest spike for 'all cause mortality', is in the 18/24 age group—a group thought to be at little risk.

How does 'immune exhaustion' happen? Reportedly, a body, exhausted by a plethora of 'spike, develops an antigen that quits fighting the spike protein and fails to recognize prurient invaders—with a downstream effect of reduced immune cancer surveillance.

Without proper testing, the 1st problem was mRNA not staying in the area of injection but going systemic, and that made it uncontrollable. Along with that, up to 30% of what's in Pfizer vials is reportedly contaminants, which is thought to be associated with 'spike' being processed in organs not intended to produce spike. And there it stays, without medical science 'fail-safe' testing, for who knows how long, beating down an already weakened immune system, incapable of quelling proliferating cancer cells.

What health agencies did with 'adverse reaction' data defies reason—and seemingly betrays a non-compassion for the human condition. Most adverse reactions happen in close proximity to the event of the 'jab'—more with boosters than 'vaccinations'. 3/4s of adverse effects were ascribed to 'unvaccinated' because they came on during the 1st 14 days, post 'jab', when those taking 'shots' were being identified as 'unvaccinated'.

Whether this categorization was by design or not, never letting a good crisis go to waste, scorn for adverse reactions was coincidentally heaped on the 'unvaccinated'—for which they were pilloried. Did health agencies assume fear would keep us compliant?

How many have even heard the term: 'turbo cancers'? How many are aware of profligate, stage 4 cancers in the 20/30 age group? Where is the reporting on how many months oncological patients have to wait—just to be seen? Instead, regulators cheer on a 'new and improved' jab. But have no fear—it was tested on 10 mice for 20 days.

Meanwhile 2 'vaccines' and 2 or more 'boosters' roam along inside passages of billions of bodies, producing full-length 'spike protein' unbounded by antibodies. Exhausted immune systems look away—askance. As Dr. Tenpenny tells it—once it's in—it's in.

A little story: my mom had colon cancer, inoperable, but my dad being a force of nature, made them operate. Before, the surgeon would discuss my mom's condition with me, he needed assurance I wasn't of my dad's disposition. Once satisfied, he explained that my mother had 4 ancient tumors, each contained/killed-off by her immune system—something surgeons see often—patients who beat cancer and never knew it.

With millions of viruses in a body, the idea that medical science can go after 1 and not upset the balance of nature seems a preposterous denial of natural immunity. Assuming 'spike protein' would behave as other proteins, short-lived, the agencies (cheerleaders), saw no necessity to conduct tests. With hubris they assumed public safety, and we inherited a future without a detection mechanism for synthetic spike-protein.

To whatever extent medical elites understand what they have done, are they rushing-in to make sure errors are not repeated? Not in the least. A new, mainly untested, 'vaccine' is ready to roll-out, but knowing the global public is no longer as compliant to 'propaganda from the insane', and variants are flu-like while risks associated with 'vaccines' are far worse than even imagined, there is no logic to support taking a 'shot'. As a result, the rebrand no longer advertises a 'booster'—this is your 'seasonal vaccine'.

mRNA, 'spike protein' (from my vantage), is an enterprise grounded in greed, ignorance, and control. As with all aspects of humanity, when natural order is mucked with, this invariably ends in tragedy. But this time is different: many individuals are dumbed-down to 'low self-worth', having lost their ability to question and stand up for their rights.

Those who now regret taking the 'vaccines/boosters' will have a difficult time coming to terms with its realities, but there is more at stake here than our individual stories. Humanity is under attack 'from all sides', and greater risks may be in store than consequences of mRNA. As in, the stark B/W, 1st 30 minutes of 'Schindler's List'. That's us.
