Free Speech Without Facts—Is Gossip

On Larry King Live, in 1996, Marlon Brando declared ‘Hollywood is run by Jews’, who, in films, perpetuated negative stereotypes of other ethnic minorities but not of their own group. Brando faced cancellation for what he said. Now, with the Zionist takeover of Paramount/TikTok (1/6 of the networks), Hollywood is even more-so run by Jews.

Free speech is supposed to make you uncomfortable because politics and life are uncomfortable. If it’s factual and it makes you uncomfortable—that’s okay. But only in theory. Jimmy the Greek Snyder was fired from CBS in January 1988 for making so-called racist comments about black athletes, suggesting their athletic superiority was a result of selective breeding practices during slavery. Didn’t matter if it was true or not.

Now, a woman on British TV is likely losing her job because she corrected ‘pregnant people’, with ‘women’. How bloody absurd is that? Or an EU commentator losing his job when asked? ‘Should Russia be responsible for the rebuilding of Ukraine?’ He asked: ‘Should Israel have to rebuild Gaza? In fact, Russia should not—Israel should.

What Americans accept as news indicates we’ve lost ability to ferret-out facts, and who best to listen to. Some are serious analysts. Others mislead, because of political alignment. Since my readers suggest pundits to me—here's my list of the best/worst.

Start with the good guys. Bill Holter is like 2 glasses of water in the morning—nothing better to flush your system of toxins. Followed up by economist Sean Foo and non-economist, Michael Bordenaro, walking around neighborhoods offering economic facts.

Judge Napolitano (Judging Freedom), Ray McGovern, Matt Hoh, Max Blumenthal/Arron Mate, 2 democrats—brighter than most on the right. Glenn Diesen/Neutrality Studies/Nima (John Helmer) at Dialogue Works, Ben Norton—replete/w/facts, though a bit too sober, Liberty and Finance/ Andy Schectman. And for certain—my Canadian economist friend, Bryan.

Who are I done with? Any/all Zionists including Kunstler/Peterson. I tried again listening to Martin Armstrong today, but after 12 instances of world leaders calling him in to solve their problems—I called BS. I think his computer genius is more bullshit.

Recommendations by readers? From a friend: 'I listened to Larry Klayman on Greg Hunter... my face winces/taken aback at his assertions that Martial Law/Insurrection Act will be used to fix our messes.' Klayman is a Zionist, complete/w/flag lapel/ American flag behind him, presenting himself as a constitutionalist. Is Larry Klayman a constitutionalist patriot?

A blatantly unconstitutional Insurrection Act calls for: Whenever there is an insurrection in any State against its government, the President may, upon the request of its legislature or of its governor if the legislature cannot be convened, call into Federal service such of the militia of the other States, in the number requested by that State, and use such of the armed forces, as he considers necessary to suppress the insurrection.

Blue states (cities), are not calling for Trump to deploy the military (unconstitutional National Guard), to address crime in their jurisdictions. What the right calls crime (most of it is), blue states elect officials to support—rendering Trump a tyrant who has advised Sec/War Hegseth to be ready to occupy any American city in 2026. Martial Law—there's no constitutional provision. Klayman is not a fix—he's part of the problem.

Marco Rubio, longtime hater of socialism governments in the Americas (portrays them as communists), as National Security Advisor, whispers in Trump's ear. Then, under his capacity as Secretary of State, he decides on which course of action to take.

In support of Rubio are the Newmans/Armstrongs. Fact-driven analysts strongly disagree with assessments painting Nicolas Maduro as a drug-lord, election thief, a murderer in countless American drug deaths. Maduro as responsible for Cartel of the Sun? It's a CIA creation. 7% of drug trafficking is Venezuelan (cocaine), for a willing US population, often with support of US uni-party administrations and right-wing Latin American dictators.

Newman says he's been following this for years? Me too, and I find no basis for his allegations. Venezuela's economy, under horrific US sanctions, has collapsed 60%. No wonder locals get into trafficking cocaine. Newman points to China/Russia as perpetrators. It's that same mindset. You line up with Trump's neocons—or with the world.

Choose who you listen to with great care, and move on when necessary. Some we thought were patriots have little concern for the republic/Constitution. Instead they put forward one side of the uni-party or the other. Trump's motives to take Venezuela—there's no discussion/debate. War/Sec. Hegseth plays his global video games—Lethal Kinetic Strikes.

Joining who I don't listen to is Victor Davis Hanson who sees Putin bogged down in Ukraine in a Verdun-style bloodbath after needlessly incurring one million casualties, Putin is terrified...he now fights only to inch westward, hoping to reach a symbolic DMZ line that would justify his military blunder. And, China stole Western technology with impunity, manipulated its currency, made a mockery of copyright and patent laws, and spread its Belt-and-Road imperialism. It did indeed become affluent and powerful, but also arrogant. The communist government rearmed, destroyed the rules of the world trade system, bullied its neighbors, created the greatest global mercantile system in world history, and sought every means to weaken the West, from the Spratly Islands and the Panama Canal. This is so out of touch—it's best assigned to the fiction shelves.

Far better, we listen to Putin/Lavrov speeches—often times the rational explanations for where we find ourselves and need to go. These two statesmen offer acute analysis, challenging deep-seated beliefs. Instead, many Americans listen to evil morons, such as Lindsey Graham (who with Trump's support), seeks yet another term in the Senate—running on Trump 'as a great man', cutting taxes and killing all the right people'. Except taxes are higher, Graham is stupid or evil, and great man Trump—mass murderer.

It was with disbelief that networks eulogized heinous perpetrator of murder/torture Dick Cheney. I searched in vain for anyone, mainstream, questioning that narrative. Be careful who you listen to. Question everyone and everything. It's dangerous out there.

I know some will recoil at my remarks—it's the price I pay for calling it as I see it.
