Informed—Consent

We are into the 1st week of 2025, a good time for a New Year's resolution—one we can keep. Here's my simple suggestion—Don't React. Whatever comes—don't react.

Find your sense of humor and keep it close. Say what you need to say in a clear, direct way, refusing to be drawn into contention. When you feel yourself slipping into reaction, take a walk around the block. When you come back—apologize for reacting.

Try to not react to what I'm putting out—2 words (actually 2 concepts), misconstrued to function as 1 thing—informed consent. The US medical tyranny conflated these 2 words to seemingly inform citizens before forcing us to consent to (mRNA), dictates.

But, that's not how it works, is it? Government information about products doesn't mean we accept them. To be informed requires product information concerning safety/effectiveness, then, as free agents, citizens decide if a product is something they want.

Here's the problem: 'vaccines', in the main, are not properly tested—and that information is withheld from us. Instead, vaccines are raised to levels of religious icons—as emissaries of God. As in: without mRNA, there's no herd immunity—and mass die-off.

These are products—some of which are greatly flawed. None of which are safe and effective. In fact, much of the information put out by health regulators is either knowingly fraudulent—or info purposed with either a profit motive, a motive of control—or both.

The 1st phrase of the 1st Amendment in the Bill of Rights guarantees religious freedom. Religious freedom in the late 1700s was far different than going to church on Sundays. America was a nation of immigrants, many who came here for what the 1st Amendment offered: freedom from religious persecution—guaranteed for everyone.

Most Americans were Christians, but the US is not a Christian nation. Instead America is a nation where my God is as important (under the law), as your God. Where your beliefs are no more valid than mine. And religious freedom is not restricted only to God.

Any deeply-held idea was protected under the law. In a republic, the government is required to persuade and gain the consent of citizens—the principle holders of power.

Federal Government is restricted under the US Constitution. They can't send police around to give you a 'vaccine'. Citizens, not police, as members of state militias, are enforcers of the laws of the United States. There are no cops in the Constitution (no FBI/CIA/HS). The duty to enforce the laws/quell rebellion/stop invasion falls to citizens.

Was there informed-consent when we lost real money control to the Federal Reserve in 1913? The gold (silver) standard is constitutional money—the Fed/Reserve is illegal.

Further misappropriation of our liberty has the federals usurping the Preamble to the Constitution (promote the general welfare clause), as a mandate to do whatever they want. In this process they obfuscate the facts. A case can be made for not smoking in government buildings because 2nd-hand smoke is a killer. But, that is a prohibition. A 'vaccine' mandate' is a requirement. Completely different—illegal under law of the land.

Government overreach, in general, poses the great danger to liberty—whenever government takes away citizen's rights to decide—what they do and do not consent to.

Using medical dictates, government resorts to mandates, when the real issues have to do with efficacy and safety. And, because there is no informed-consent, lunacy follows—ruling the day. The number one covid killer is heart disease—so should government mandate heart remedies, produced by Pharma—also without the proper testing?

Facing the facts: our bodies have become commodities for pharmaceutical sales and medical procedures. What produces health or maintains liberty does not matter. Elites tell us we are not being forced—but mandated consequences function so as to force. Losing your job, kicked off YouTube, losing bank accounts, are each a forced coercion.

Liberty comes with risk (ain't nobody gettin out of here alive). What you risk is your right to assess/decide on. Constitutional rights are not the business of any 3rd party.

3rd party government elites lie so as to advance a mission of profit/control. Speculate on why 'vaccines' are the only thing on the market with no liability attached to them? There is no liability—but you are forced to take them. And, insurers gaining profits from high premiums are not likely to expose data showing adverse 'vaccine' effects.

When the number of cases in mRNA 'vaccinated' outnumbered cases in the 'unvaccinated', regulators adjusted the definition of 'unvaccinated' to include some who received 1 or 2 jabs. When that didn't offset higher numbers in the 'vaccinated' group, they deleted the comparison. This is literally playing and tampering with life and death.

Because informed-consent is as irrelevant to elites as the Bill of Rights, we don't hear facts: Israel (contracted solely with Pfizer), had the highest 'vaccine compliance', and reportedly—highest number of covid cases. Knowing this would have saved lives.

Most 'vaccines' don't stop transmission—but we are not told. Measles/mumps/rubella stops transmission, but persons having these diseases as children have much lower incidents of heart disease. Measles morbidity dropped 98% before a 'vaccine' arrived.

'Vaccines' (without proper testing), function as murder. When risks outnumber benefits, go ahead and promote it—you're immune to lawsuit. Mandates will protect you. When it hits the fan, regulators will be through the revolving door—Pharma colleagues.

'Vaccines' are not licensed to stop transmission—they're licensed to reduce symptoms. Pertussis 'vaccine' doesn't stop transmission. Hugely threatening to babies, an infected adult, with 'vaccine' lessened symptoms, spreads it to babies—unknowingly.

What else? Regulators knew masking didn't help—the studies showed it. CDC studies showed viral loading in the 'vaccinated' was much higher than in the 'unvaccinated.'

Most 'vaccines' only lessen symptoms. Diphtheria stops symptomatic toxins—but not the diphtheria virus. Polio 'vax' does not stop transmission, but it can cause paralysis.

The underlying problem is not 'vaccines' or predatory medical practices. The US Constitution/Bill of Rights is the best conveyance in human history of political/economic science. Until we demand our rights, under the Constitution—the horror will continue.
