It's Not That People Don't See it—They're Okay With It

It had better be true that it takes only a small percentage of us to turn the ship of state —because people are so stupid. While most of us saw Covid as a horror show, Klaus Schwab and his 'young global leaders' saw opportunity to exploit—to take total control.

The thing forever 'seared into our souls' is how many among us went along with it. Elites were able to exploit more than 5 billion 'unreflective' humans to take an 'untested, emergency-use, gain of function' weapon, financed by greed—while condemning any who questioned. While we were being coerced to abandon reason/questions at the risk of being ostracized, rock n rollers like Neil Young, who we assumed to be anti-establishment showed themselves to be in the grip of Gates/Schwab, And, Dolly sang 'vaccine', 'vaccine', 'vaccine', 'vaccine' to the tune of 'Jolene' while getting her injection.

Long before I could pick up a guitar and play most anything, I used to drive my Fiat 600 to Taormina, Sicily (40 miles), where there was a juke box that had the new Beatle songs—only place back then I could hear them. Tonight, I'm remembering how my friend Sam would come with me. Sam, who on a phone call, after the 'vaccine' rollout, ripped into me when he found out I wouldn't take the jabs. Never heard from Sam after.

It's sad to think on how we were treated—even sadder with the awareness that the Sams of the world will never call us up and make amends. Instead, they are okay with doctors linking youth myocarditis to genetics, 'blood clots' to walking uneven ground.

We best not forget how close they came to putting us in camps and taking our children—because many haven't learned a damn thing. The sad truth about human nature is that the multitudes will turn you into the Stasi (HS/FBI), so as to protect themselves.

Now, the leaders of the 'Great Reset' (most of whom headquarter in Geneva, Switzerland—Davos/WHO), wait and plot. And it is on us to get out front of them. They will try for another pandemic/lockdown/'vaccine passport', but they cannot count on that. In the meantime, they are making a push to take control of all things financial.

CBDC for sure, but maybe more insidious is 'guaranteed income'. With people in financial straits this notion is getting easier to sell—under the banner of fairness/equity/equality. But beneath that facade, 'guaranteed income', along with 'assisted housing', strips us of our initiative. A great life-learning experience is when, seeing no way forward, you find your way. Any who can't 'find their way' are those who are 'okay with it'.

Do these people know what happens when you sit home, with enough to eat/pay rent—but without responsibility for one's own life—a phenomena made worse by the suppression of any curiosity for consequences. When 'dumbed-down' to a place where abjectly-'low self-worth' collides with an elite pretending to be a provider, a friend?

These unfortunates, after decades of propaganda, don't ask, they go along with what they see as their only alternative. Whichever way the networks go on an issue is the way they go. They saw candidate 'Wang' selling the idea of 'guaranteed income' as 'progressive'. They see the possibility that one of 'Schwab's boys', Gavin Newsom, as a presidential contender—as a good thing. What else do they see as a good thing?

Since they ask 'no' questions, they see CBDC as a good thing—they're 'okay with it', because, like 'guaranteed income', it will be put in place for their protection. Besides, they have nothing to hide—their financial life is an open book for government/all to see.

They don't see 'sitting at home in a lazy-boy' is unproductive and economies cannot be built/sustained through un-productivity. They don't get that they are lambs, first fleeced, until deemed 'useless eaters', then slaughtered. Along the way, what else?

They go along with the program because they never heard Thomas Sowell's explanation: “When you want to help people, you tell them the truth. When you want to help yourself, you tell them what they want to hear.” The elite will avoid telling the flock what they need to hear. Instead, they will tell them what the flock wants to hear. Until when?

Elites will use this tactic until they deem 'socialism/collective' to be in full control. And up to that point, the multitude will 'be okay with it'. When, under CBDC certain purchases and the making such purchases will be cancelled, They will be 'okay' with that because, as elite supported, they have little to fear. When those who object a little too much have 'guaranteed income' restricted—even suspended—that's understandable.

As possessions are tokenized within a CBDC framework (deeds/vehicles/etcetera, they will be 'okay with that', rationalizing it as safely guaranteeing their possessions/wealth. But will they be okay when the consequence/intent of tokens becomes clear?

There are a couple of givens on the 'road to reset': global population will need to be reduced by billions, as 60 years of the 'welfare state' has resulted in a population rise that 'failing economies' can no longer sustain—better stated: can no longer condone?

Without a new plague, how do they rid us of a few billion? They can opt for war over negotiation—but the heat of war brings 'climate change'. A better way is to incrementally starve them out—keeping in mind that each demise make for a more sustainable future'. How do 'tokens' function in a mission statement for needed population reduction?

Within a 'tokenized' society, Elizabeth Warren's wet dream for a 'wealth tax' is 'easy pickins'—a one time thing, right? Then, enslaved minions, who've been 'okay with it', are treated to 'token reality' wherein everything owned can be bought by elites for assessed fiat value—the proceeds from which are yours to use—but only by permission.

At some point, even those relying on the elite for their well-being become restive. But, by then control is formidable and elites can resort to an age-old Machiavellian principle from 'The Prince': Society functions best when the prince is feared—not loved.

The time to be ready is now. Question everything—accept nothing on face value except what comes from those you can trust with your life (you gotta trust somebody). Become your own food source and central bank. Stock up on pre 65 dimes—and courage. Be prepared to defend yourself.
