Malthusians on the March—They Are Coming For You

Just as everyone is beginning to put aside 'viral threat' to get back to going about their lives, the WHO (World Health 'Ogres'), is hard-at-it, making an end-run around the US Constitution. At Davos, backed by 'so-called' Biden Amendments, which for now have been dealt a defeat by a coalition of nations (many African), opposing what the WHO terms a 'treaty', but in reality is a plan to transfer national sovereignty to 'globalism'.

The treaty would give global control over to WHO dictates, lockdowns, etcetera. This is the same WHO that over the past three years has been complicit and responsible for failed policies resulting in human suffering and death—rendering the WHO like some US intelligence heads that, once exposed for lying, get promoted rather than punished.

Hopefully this treaty will not be brought into law because if so, even in a 'watered-down' version, it brings with it an ugly consequence for the US. The Constitution sets a hierarchy, giving treaties the same status as laws passed by Congress, prompting serious speculation that a treaty such as this would, by law, subordinate 'state's rights' to WHO dictates and mandates. Consequently, the Biden Administration could give over national sovereignty to a global hierarchy, stripping power from the Feds, and states.

Beginning today, I will both email, and post articles at: neverhadaboss.com. I had stopped posting because a website gives more access to 'authorities'—than an email list. But, with rights more at risk each day, I would rather take my chances. That said, I'm not a doctor, but a researcher, and what I'm about to lay-out here is what I have gleaned this week from podcasts with esteemed virologists and epidemiologists.

Concerning the injections, why did Pfizer require 75 years to release documents that could have been released over weeks? Begin with: There is no immunity for Pharma where there is negligence or fraud. Mainstream reported few 'adverse reactions' caused by the 'jabs', and described VAERS as unreliable. Data from the UK and Germany substantiates VAERS data—German reports 1/100 injected are 'vaccine injured'.

There has never been this amount of 'adverse reactions' to vaccines (this is not a vaccine—mRNA gene therapy), as with these therapies. Vaccines that cause harm are pulled after 50/100 adverse reactions, not 100,000 or a million. And what about autopsies? Dr. Ryan Cole says we should have tens of thousands and instead we have a couple hundred. Why is that? According to Dr. Cole, Fauci saw them as un-necessary.

How do autopsies work? Except in a few mysterious cases they find the cause of death. How many died because no autopsies were performed? Cole tells us there was money to burn up bodies but none for autopsies. What would autopsies have shown?

When Parma knows a product is killing people and okays it—is that manslaughter? As for informed consent: The Pfizer safety study to okay 'jabs' for pregnant women followed 42 pregnant French rats for 44 days—none of which they allowed to give birth (Dr. Cole). Based on that study they recommended pregnant women get the 'jabs'. In a subsequent study, Dr. Cole reports that 270 women became pregnant and Pfizer lost the results for 230 of the women. But, of the remaining women, 36 gave birth, and 28 of those babies died. That would mean 77.77 percent of the babies died. Pfizer knew?

When information such as this is known, but not disclosed, there can be no 'informed consent', which is required for the administration of 'an emergency use' product.

The vehicle used to carry the 'vaccine' has to do with 'lipid nano particle, mRNA technology' (Dr. Cole), and was known to not stay in the deltoid. Instead, it was designed to be able to get into the brain, to get drugs past the brain 'blood barrier' as a 'last ditch effort' to deal with untreatable brain cancers. If Pfizer knew the 'spike protein' would find its way into every part of the body, then they also knew that 'petroleum distillate' in the 'jabs' (Dr. Cole), would pass blood barriers and find its way into the embryo.

Now, there is a reported global, baby die-off. Has that been reported on CNN? Along with injecting pregnant women, little children and babies, what about recommendations and conditions of employment, mandating those recovered from infection get 'injections'? 2 to 4 times the adverse reactions are being reported, after having a 'shot', post recovery from infection. There's earlier footage of Fauci advising that the best immunity from a virus is natural immunity from having recovered. But not for this one—instead insipid comments about not being sure how long natural immunity would last—when they knew any benefit from 'jabs' would be short-lived, and would require ongoing jabs.

What about misinformation and obfuscation (that amounted to outright banning) of treatments such as ivermectin and hydroxy-chloroquine, that aided in eradicating the virus? How many had to die to make 'emergency use jabs' the only treatment option?

Then this claim: Covid causes myocarditis. An Israeli study shows that Covid causes no myocarditis. But we know the 'jabs' cause myocarditis. Although, if one listens to the propaganda one would believe that young boys have heart attacks from walking to school—it's the norm. And how about CDC misinformation about asymptomatic spread of the virus, which led to years of masking children and tests with unverifiable results.

It's reported that emergency-use status gets extended another 90 days to make it possible for millions of small children and babies to be okayed to get the 'clot shots'—'jabs' that were meant for an infection that virtually disappeared a year and a half ago. Is there no end to the horror that human beings are capable of?

The group most hesitant to take the 'shots' is PHDs. Does that suggest the push to inject everyone was not a medical decision? What were they protecting us from? Covid was much less deadly than the Spanish Flu, and maybe not as potent as the Hong Kong, Asian, or SARS—which came and went quickly, killed-off by herd immunity.

Fauci doubts we will eliminate it completely but hopefully keep it at a low enough level that it doesn't disrupt society—and that courts have no business in this because experts decide. In my Constitution there are courts—no experts—but there is treason.
