The US Didn't Want a Deal—This is About Regime Change

41 years ago Netanyahu made his first claim that Iran was one year away from a nuclear weapon. Now with no evidence other than fabrication, that Iran has been working towards a nuclear weapon, Israel (under a cloak of lies to justify a preemptive strike), commenced/conducted a bombing campaign that is best described as mass murder.

As in Lebanon, where Israel conducted pager murders, then supported Al Qaeda beheaders to bring down Syria, and UKR conducted attacks on Russian nuclear forces (fortunately 3 of 5 container trucks failed), this West attack on Iran was well-planned, intended to kill Iranians officials/take out Iran's ability to make a retaliatory response.

What role did Trump play in it? Hotel brander launches WW3? Based on his statements during/after the attack, he's not surprised—in total support. 'Two months ago I gave Iran a 60 day ultimatum to make a deal. They should have done it! Today is day 61. I think it's been excellent. We gave them a chance and they didn't take it. They got hit hard, very hard. They got hit about as hard as you're going to get hit. And there's more to come, a lot more. I think ultimately, it would be great for the market because Iran will not have a nuclear weapon. Iran won't have a nuclear weapon that was a great threat to humanity.' It's all BS—no evidence Iran was working on a nuclear weapon.

But that doesn't matter because the SOBs that are the West are in complete unison on this. The IAEA (International Atomic Energy Agency), is also being seen as complicit (offering sites to bomb and not condemning Israel's attack). And, EU stooges are together in their assessment Israel had to attack. Nothing could be further from the truth.

This attack has nothing to do with Iran acquiring nuclear capability. They were willing to forgo that for peace. Netanyahu gave his word to hold off until this Sunday's negotiations between the US and Iran. That was a ruse—and it's incredulous the US was not involved in the deception that made the attack possible. The rift between Netanyahu/Trump did not exist, as evidenced by Trump giving his full support to Israeli slaughter.

For those who scurry to find explanations to justify Israel's actions—there are none. This was not about Iran getting the bomb, this is a devious strategy to end Iranian resistance to US/Israel tyranny. Any hope we had for Donald Trump is gone—having shown himself to be a warmongering SOB—possibly worse than a Biden with a brain.

Long before Israel launched its attacks against Iran on Friday, agents from Mossad smuggled explosive drones and other guided weapons into Iran. As the attack got under way, Mossad assets on the ground used the drones and other weapons to attack Iran's air-defense system and ballistic-missile launchers. The US didn't know about it?

What's this war really about? The domino theory. Not counting what we did earlier to Libya, Venezuela, the Middle East, this last phase of genocide included Palestine, Lebanon, then Syria, and now we move on to Iran. And since the destruction of Iran has nothing to do with a nuclear weapons program—what is this mass murder about?

Money. Iran has lots of oil and the US cannot abide that. Much of that oil goes to China and the US cannot abide that. Iran is vital to the new Silk Road trading system supporting overland trade routes that the US Navy cannot interdict. US can't have that.

Though Iran likely still has retaliatory ability, let's assume it is somewhat neutered. That just leaves 2 to be domino-ed—Russia and China. And what dupes they have been—allowing regions to be mutilated while they stood by and watched. That attack on Russian nuclear capacity is no coincidence (what Britain can't do militarily they accomplish because they have no soul). Meanwhile, the blind US monkey—sees no evil.

It's no irony that Putin has been warning the West that Russia's nuclear arsenal is far advanced, compared to NATO. But that doesn't disallow the possibility, that in its quest for democracy, US will attack Russia/China preemptively—completing its domino run.

This is not Trump's war. No, Trump is just another cog in the wheel of an inhuman US foreign policy—that supersedes whoever is president. Biden inherited Trump's policies, and Trump's plethora of executive orders didn't negate Biden's Ukraine policies.

What we are witnessing in Iran is mass slaughter based on lies. Trump and Co. accuse Iran of stalling, with continued speculation that Iran is secretly building nukes, and growing Israeli anxiety with the situation. It's all bullshit with intent to justify slaughter. Iranian generals/scientists were lulled into assurance to remain where they were with an assumption there was to be peace negotiations on Sunday—so they could be killed.

Witkoff let Iran know: If Israel carries out any operation against Iran, it will be carried out without any US military assistance. That didn't include intelligence and the shooting down of any retaliation from Iran. But, Trump didn't know—he was busy elsewhere.

What are the crimes of our enemies? Palestine wanted to exist without being maimed/murdered, with some regularity, by the IDF. There was never any chance of that. Syria chose to exist without kowtowing to the US. It wasn't enough to steal their oil/agriculture—any nation that doesn't obey rules-based order pays the ultimate price.

China must be obliterated because it followed US history and became prosperous at its own initiative. We can't have that. Russia, the whipping boy for NATO since 1945, has the audacity to demand a security agreement to keep it safe from NATO—and that NATO stopped murdering Russian speakers in Ukraine. That's not rules-based order.

Where does it go from here? Where it ought to go is for Russia/China/Iran to say enough is enough. Any further attacks on one of them is an attack on all. And let the Brits know they are number 1 on Putin's list if the missiles start flying. While they are at it, inform Israel that they are out of Palestine—or else. Let al-Jolani Syria know his time is up in Syria. It's time for him to go looking for another home—but Syria will not be it.

With Israel's attack on Iran, the US, Israel, and NATO have now become the Axis of Evil. But, then again, anyone who has been watching—was already aware of that fact.

I had another article ready to send out: Palantir, surveillance, and the plight of the US economy. Now, it will have to wait. So how's that MAGA thing working out for you?
