The 'Vaccinated—As the 'Betting-Line' for 'Probabilities of Thud'

In a child's nightmare, things go 'boom in the night'. My friend Phil points to a new (waking) nightmare 'boom', where the 'vaccinated' drop dead—as 'probabilities of thud'.

What is 'thud'? The guy you are meeting to sign a contract 'thuds' on his way over. No one is sure why but they do know it has nothing to do with the 'vaccines'. Or, that blood transfusion you got 6 months ago, coincidentally came just before you fell into a 5-week cough, and then you got the damned 'shingles'—for which you had been vaccinated. Worse yet, your spouse got all 4 'jabs'—and now you worry for your baby.

Making the situation worse, no inquiries or studies are conducted by the authorities. Instead we get an elite conspiracy: 'adverse vaccine reactions' have been put behind us. But no amount of propaganda can hide 'the bitter end' of a continuum where those around us are now at grave peril from the reality associated with 'probabilities of thud'.

There are steps we can take to protect ourselves from 'thud probabilities'. Locate someone with your blood type and agree to provide blood when needed—then try to explain to the hospital why only this person's blood works for you. Women, aware of 'vaccine' data, but not wanting a relationship with a man, can seek-out an unvaccinated sperm donor. This will make for interesting dinner conversation with her parents.

Some individual precautions are doable, but what about that flight you booked to Raleigh? The FAA (allegedly) raised pilot 'arrhythmia-tic' levels to accommodate irregular ('vaccinated'), heartbeat patterns at altitude. And—something I would expect to find in the 'Babylon Bee': at least 1 airline petitioned the FAA to fly with only 1 pilot? Those 2 things, taken together, raise the 'probability of thud', risk. Imagine the spin required at MSN/CNN to lower the fear bar when dream-liners 'thud' on the evening news?

'Probabilities of thud' affect each of us since most of those we know are 'vaccinated'. 'Sudden adult (or child) death syndrome' can happen next door or in the next bedroom. Given a worse-case scenario, 'thud' becomes just another everyday occurrence.

It's not disrespectful to call it 'thud'. Disrespectful criminality belongs to the authorities for not addressing the reality. Footage of young persons dropping to their death out on the 'pitch' is well-described as 'thud'. With no warning they drop, without explanation. Skepticism of Pharma (not only about mRNA but because of mRNA), is now rampant—either as the 'butt of jokes' or in the growing anger of those who lost loved ones.

28% report knowing someone who died from adverse reactions—just a fraction of that is genocide. 1 by 1, elite lies are going 'thud'. More than 30 peer-reviewed studies show complete ineffectiveness for masks. Meanwhile, Pharma's talking-heads remind us they did not mandate—they only suggested. A lie—purposed to put it all behind us, let bygones be bygones. That's not going to happen in a 'probability of thud'—world.

40% of 'vaccinated' Americans reportedly think 'vaccines' may be responsible for excess deaths ('sudden adult death' is a 'thud too far?'). Vaxxed or not, 49% of Americans see 'vaccines' as responsible for excess deaths. Only 30% disavow that possibility.

A study of 170K, with natural immunity, found that antibodies acquired from having had the virus gave 'unvaccinated' a 76% better chance compared to 'vaccinated', to not contract an infection. This is apparent in 'vaccinated' being infected—again and again.

Unintended consequences over mRNA has brought Pharma's 'panoply of fraud'—into the light. In cahoots with drug manufacturers, regulators allegedly 'rigged the system' such that Pharma had 'free rein' to profit from sundry 'vaccines', which may be unnecessary or harmful. Dr. Pierre Kory includes smallpox and oral polio in that list.

This culminates in ugly questions about autism. There are few or no 'peer reviewed' studies on the relationship between autism and vaccinations, yet we get regulatory assurances that 'vaccines' do not cause autism. But nothing to explain why autism, historically occurring in 1/10,000 kids, reportedly now occurs in 1/40 (4X more in boys). To explain excess death, is there a more likely unexplored factor than mRNA 'vaccines'—as causal? And where the 'hue and cry' over what could be a genocide in our children?

Elites tried to mRNA 'vaccinate' everyone, by force or coercion (including kids/pregnant women), using untested 'emergency use' products. Given that reality, what would keep them from deflecting judgement on themselves, as the cause for autism in kids?

Now, with 'sudden adult death' 'assumed' to be something that's always been part of the human experience, another 'meme of the day' has autism as 'naturally occurring'. Unfortunately, a 30 year chart, going forward, shows a probability for autism occurring in all kids (keep moving folks—nothing to see here). Since we know health regulators disdain 'control groups', control groups will be rendered unnecessary/nonexistent when all children are autistic. The totality of elite actions, sadly brings disquieting questions.

Though not a Christian, I am imbued with Judeo-Christian mythology. 'The Good Samaritan' myth helped shape my thinking. But now, when 'jimmied lies' are used to sell us on mRNA saving 30 million lives, when, in fact, the suppression of 'off patent' drugs likely killed that number, my anger mounts toward elites and measures taken to supposedly contain a virus that robbed our Nuremberg, 'informed consent' protections.

Which side of the aisle can we thank for that? It's the 'left' but we can't thank Biden—it's beyond his pay grade. Under Obama, 'informed consent' was allegedly taken away, even from subjects in a test if the information might not be in their best interest. Who is this 'thin-skinned SOB to decide what's in our best interest? And did this action under Obama set the stage for immunity to be granted for 'willful misconduct'? A supposed immunity that now extends to everything? CN they beat and murder us at will—under a rubric of a 'Malthusian Planned Parenthood'? They know where I live—bring it.

What's the hierarchy for malfeasance? Start with stupid, morph into greed, and from there to 'power over others'? Does that step-across to evil? Is an ever-increasing presence of evil the best evidence for the existence of God? What's that opposite of God?
