updates on the insane world of money and power

These Next 2 Months Will Last A Lifetime

The left are either viscous bastards or damn fools. If you don't think so, watch what happens between now and Inauguration Day. They know America is against them, but that doesn't matter. They have propaganda on their side—and they play by no rules.

If they can't beat Trump, they plan to control him through a color revolution, long in the works, modeled on the 2020 election where voting continued after the polls closed.

For that to happen requires 2 things. Lots of ballots showing up late that get counted (to save the democracy), and assholes with media bullhorns shouting down questioners so as to perpetuate a single lie: Trump is Hitler, and he plans to destroy democracy.

Transforming Trump into Hitler is the goal, meanwhile the left are the actual ruthless dictators, with no concern for the rule of law, ruling with an iron fist, propagandizing repeated messages so as to convince morons to mouth banal parroting—as automatons.

We have 2 hopes here: 1st is a red-tide victory, large enough to offset the destruction of the republic—the goal of the left. And, or, whatever win the left manages, comes as a pyrrhic victory (where cost outweighs benefit). This comes after they lose at the polls, and they use law-fare to gain their victory. Law-fare is what they unsuccessfully used against Trump in the election run-up—charging him with everything imaginable.

Expect the same, post election defeat. The left has no plan for a peaceful transition of power—or any transition whatsoever. As Obama seemed, in a sit-down with Trump, post 2015 election, to accept/lay groundwork for peaceful transition—it was a ploy, a ruse, intended to dupe Trump into complacency, setting the groundwork for 4 years of hell where every deep-state resource was brought to render him—unable to maneuver.

The left lost in its law-fare with Trump, but they learned valuable lessons. Much of America, already beat down, will accept a page out of Goebbels/Hitler playbook. Once fear is fostered in American hearts—they can then conduct their mission—successfully.

The fear around so-called pandemic that resulted in 200 million Americans risking their health and lives for an untested (allegedly criminal motivated), 'vaccine', was the test case. And, overplaying January 6th, to the level of a phony insurrection, warned Americans that if thou doth protest too much—the long arm of the law will destroy you.

The distortion of January 6th was intended for a single purpose: rather than allowing courts to overturn what was likely a fraudulent election, instill fear so as to misdirect real election concerns. Make Americans fearfully complacent—willing to accept fraud.

This time, instead of using the courts to correct injustice, the left plans to hamstring the new president from his constitutional mandates through endless lawsuits purposed to keep him from taking office, or rendering him effectively useless—once inaugurated.

The left has no soul—and that includes the hundred million minions who parrot their rot. Sure, most of them are not evil, just stupid beyond measure, but, in denying support for the Bill of Rights, they lend support to evil tyranny—a crime against humanity.

Trump reminds us he did not go after Hillary (et al), who participated in alleged criminal activity prior to his election. In not going after her, and, if he stays with a campaign promise to not go after the Biden Bunch, he only makes the situation worse. These monsters will not go gently into the good night. These are evil beings that will slither-on until their necks are crushed under a forked stick. Maybe even to return from the dead?

Frederick Douglass, the writer, the abolitionist, the slave, left explicit instructions for Trump: If there is no struggle, there is no progress. Power concedes nothing without a demand. It never did and it never will. Trump needs to see that the evil on the left is pervasive. The left occupies medicine/health regulators; they occupy education and social networks; they occupy all of the intelligence agencies. They occupy everywhere.

Where the left plans to hamstring America is in courts—the courts Bob Dylan sang about: In the courtroom of honor, the judge pounded his gavel. To show that all's equal and that the courts are on the level. Courts that no longer even pretend to scale justice.

The next step for California elections will be to make it a crime to ask for ID at a voting station. This is done for a single reason—to perpetuate fraud. Only citizens have the right to vote and what supports that heritage is an assurance that any casting votes are in fact, citizens. Not requiring identification, propagandized as supporting democracy, making it easy to vote, in fact, perpetuates the opposite—purposed left voter fraud.

I find myself in support of limiting who can vote. Nothing resembling a voter poll tax, (required payment before voting), or a restriction that only property owners get a vote. No, something far more simple: ID proving citizenship, and taking a pledge of support for the Bill of Rights. 2 simple things to demonstrate you are actually an American.

The fraud has to stop. To perpetuate the fraud, simple fixes are strewn by the way-side. After the debacles of previous elections, to still have voting machines, with leaked passwords, is criminal. The principle reason for not trading machines for pencil and paper, along with (crime waiting to happen), mail-in-ballots, and drop boxes, is to steal elections. No absentee ballots. If the election is not important enough for you to show up at the poll—so be it. As for our troops, spread across the world—bring them home.

Get ready for Lenin's observation: There are decades where nothing happens and there are weeks when decades happen. This is such a time—not just this next week but each day until Inauguration Day, possibly for years after. Ready set—here it comes.

Adding to the fun, the economy is on its last legs, and in post election madness, the dollar may lose its significance over weeks—not years. For the left, if Trump prevails, there will be no reason to support the dollar in any way—they will seek its destruction.

I'm out of dollars. I had $20K of them, but my property taxes came in at $18K. My bank account is in silver, and this past year I overbought junk dimes. With a Trump win, gold/silver might correct—if I have to sell some, that okay—it's doubled since I bought.

Silver dimes will be basis for barter. Not that long ago, dimes cost less than the silver in them. Dimes are yet available—but on the Lenin timeline. Do I need to say more?
